

Please join Code Blue, Green Festivals, The Financial Times, Green Spaces & Fund Balance for a special pre-release screening and panel discussion of:

THE BIG FIX

A Lion's Gate documentary from Sundance Award Winning filmmakers Josh and Rebecca Tickell at the fabulous:

Helen Mills Theater
137-139 West 26th Street | New York City |
Sunday, April 22nd, 7:30 PM

NYC's debut Green Festivals Earth Day event continues into Sunday night with a premier venue screening and panel in association with The Big Fix Earth Day viral national screenings.

Panelists include Carl Safina, President of Blue Ocean Institute and Ed Crooks, Energy and Industry Editor, The Financial Times.

You think you know what happened last Earth Day in the Gulf, but do you know what is still going on? Covert spraying of the toxic Corexit dispersant continues to injure people, kill sealife and damage ecosystems in the Gulf of Mexico and Ocean. EPA whistleblowers in the documentary reveal material financial information suggesting that BP is using this strategy to limit its financial liability and continues to manipulate Gulf State petropolitics.

This is the documentary that brings it all to life, reawakening the public consensus that drilling, fracking and otherwise depending for our energy needs on 20th century extractive and toxic fuel sources must be brought to a peaceful close in favor of clean, renewable energy. If you are an organization or foundation working on these issues, please be in touch.

For press kit or to partner on the New York event contact:

Christianne Cook, 646-479-7539, christianne@fund-balance.com

Leland Lehrman, 518-392-0952, leland.lehrman@fund-balance.com

To Host a viral Big Fix screening, contact Nicole Landers, 323.377.4356, nicole@greenplanet3d.com